

Thriving Through Innovation

Research Associate

(Immediate Vacancy)

XiteBio Technologies Inc., an innovative Ag-biotechnology company, is moving forward towards being the leading edge ag-biological solutions provider in North America. XiteBio's IRD (Innovation, Research & Development) Centre researches & develops unique, efficacious biological product lines and brings them to the Canadian, US & international markets to benefit farmers' bottom lines. XiteBio offers products like SoyRhizo for soybean; PulseRhizo for pea, lentil & faba bean; and XiteBio Yield+ line for canola, corn, wheat, barley and legumes. XiteBio is currently seeking a full-time Research Associate (RA) in their IRD division at the Winnipeg facility.

The RA will be responsible for advancing research in all microbial biotechnology and plant science related lab and growth room activities, including (not limited to): maintenance & monitoring of instruments, routine maintenance of aseptic conditions, media preparation, lab analysis, QA/QC, fermentation, and growing & harvesting of plants. Suitable candidate should have strong commitment to accuracy & team environment, detail-oriented, methodical and organized as well as flexibility to work extended hours when necessary for the research work. Good competency in MS office including Word, Publisher, Excel and Outlook is needed.

A graduate/post graduate degree or diploma in microbiology, plant science, soil science, biochemistry, biology, or adequate combination of experience & education and a valid Manitoba driving license is required. Laboratory Instrumentation experience and interest in farming would be an asset.

The position is full-time and permanent depending on the performance; salary will depend on candidate's education and experience. Job location will be at the XiteBio's IRD Centre at Winnipeg. There is no public transport to the facility and employees are responsible for their own transportation to and from work.

Interested candidates should send their resume along with a cover letter to:
